

51258

FILED LODGED
 RECEIVED COPY
FEB 08 1996
 CLERK U S DISTRICT COURT
 DISTRICT OF ARIZONA
 BY DEPUTY

1
 2
 3
 4
 5
 6
 7
 8
 9
 10
 11
 12
 13
 14
 15
 16
 17
 18
 19
 20
 21
 22
 23
 24
 25
 26

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 FOR THE DISTRICT OF ARIZONA

SANDRA CRAWFORD, et al.,
 Plaintiffs,

No. CIV 94-2402 PHX CAM
 No. CIV 95-0366 PHX CAM
 No. CIV 95-0376 PHX CAM
 (consolidated)
ORDER

vs.
 THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PROFESSIONAL CAREERS, INC.,
 et al.,
 Defendants.

FEB 09 1996

VICKIE LEE,
 Plaintiff

vs.
 RESOLUTION TRUST CORPORATION,
 in its capacity as Receiver for
 SECURITY SAVINGS AND LOAN
 ASSOCIATION, et al.,
 Defendants.

 SANDRA CRAWFORD,
 Plaintiff,
 vs.
 RESOLUTION TRUST CORPORATION,

1 in its capacity as Receiver for)
 2 MERABANK, et. al.,)
 3 Defendants.)

4 Having considered defendant Student Loan Marketing Association's
 5 [Sallie Mae's] motion to dismiss, the court concludes as follows:

6 Background

7 The lead case in this group of consolidated cases [94-2402] was 8 removed from state court on December 1, 1994 by the United States
 9 Department of Education after the plaintiffs filed a verified second
 10 amended complaint adding the department as a defendant. The court
 11 consolidated two similar cases, CIV 95-336 and CIV 95-376.
 12 Plaintiffs subsequently filed a third amended complaint in 94-2404 on 13 behalf of plaintiffs, all persons who enrolled in American
 14 Institute's court reporting program from May of 1985 through December 15 of 1992.

16 Plaintiffs are former students of American Institute's court
 17 reporter program. Defendants are American Institute, numerous 18 student loan lenders and guarantors, referred to as Financial 19 Defendants, and two school accreditation associations.

20 Plaintiffs allege in their third amended complaint that they 21 relied on misrepresentations by American Institute to enroll in the 22 program and take out student loans to fund their education.
 23 Plaintiffs further allege that American Institute acted as the agent
 24 for student loan lenders and guarantors, referred to in the complaint
 25 as the "financial" defendants. Plaintiffs further allege that the 26 agencies that guaranteed or purchased their loans on the secondary

1 market are subject to defenses to enforcement of the student loans
2 because those agencies are not holders in due course. Therefore,
3 plaintiffs allege that the student loan defendants are liable for 4 American Institute's misrepresentations.

5 Plaintiffs' first claim requests declaratory judgment that they 6 do not owe the student loans to American Institute and the Financial 7 Defendants; requests refunds for all payments; a permanent injunction 8 from further collection or submission of adverse credit reports; an 9 order requiring American Institute to cancel and withdraw all adverse 10 credit reports and an order prohibiting American Institute and the 11 financial defendants from transferring or assigning the loans during 12 the pendency of this litigation. Count two of the third amended
13 complaint alleges Arizona consumer fraud under A.R.S. §41-1522
14 against all defendants. Count three alleges state racketeering under 15 A.R.S. §§13-2301(D)(4) and 13-2310 against all defendants. Count
16 four alleges innocent misrepresentation against all defendants.
17 Count five alleges negligent misrepresentation against all 18 defendants. The sixth count alleges Arizona common law fraud against 19 all defendants. Count seven of the third amended complaint alleges 20 conspiracy to defraud against all defendants. Count eight alleges 21 breach of contract against American Institute. In count nine,
22 plaintiffs allege breach of third party beneficiary contract against 23 the school accreditors ACICS and NCRA. Count ten alleges fraud in 24 the inducement against all defendants. Count eleven alleges 25 negligence against all defendants. Count twelve alleges breach of 26 fiduciary duty against American Institute. Finally, count thirteen

1 of the third amended complaint alleges constructive fraud against
2 American Institute. Although the complaint alleges class claims,
3 this court has not yet certified a class in this case and no motion
4 is pending.

5 The complaint in CIV 95-376 was filed by plaintiff Sandra
6 Crawford on February 27, 1995. The complaint names as defendants the 7 RTC¹ as receiver of Merabank, the original lender; Bank of America
8 as trustee for Arizona Student Loan Finance Corporation [ASLFC];
9 Student Loan Marketing Association [Sallie Mae], which has 10 consolidated plaintiff's student loans; Norwest Bank of Minnesota as 11 trustee for the Higher Education Assistance Foundation Liquidating
12 Trust [HEAF]; Great Lakes Higher Education Corporation as guarantor
13 of Sallie Mae's consolidation of plaintiff's loan.

14 Counts one through five of the complaint in CIV 95-376 allege
15 fraud, consumer fraud, negligent misrepresentation, state
16 racketeering and negligence against the RTC, as receiver for 17 MeraBank. Count six requests declaratory and injunctive relief
18 against Norwest, as trustee for HEAF; Bank of America, as trustee for 19 ASLFC; Sallie Mae and Great Lakes. Because the RTC has been 20 dismissed, only the sixth count remains in this case.

21 Relevant to this motion to dismiss, Sallie Mae was created by 22 Congress as a federally-chartered national secondary market for 23 student loans. Sallie Mae was established with the specific purpose
24 of providing liquidity for student loan investments. 20 U.S.C.A. §
25 1087-2. Sallie Mae acquires insured student loans under the Federal 26

¹ The RTC has already been dismissed from this action.

1 Family Education Loan Program [FFELP] from lenders and other holders,
2 thus providing new funds with which more student loans can be made.
3 Sallie Mae is also an eligible lender for consolidation loans made
4 under the FFELP. 20 U.S.C.A. § 1078-3(a)(1).

5 Consolidation loans are authorized under FFELP. 20 U.S.C.A. §§
6 1078-3 and 1087-2(o). The FFELP consolidation loan program provides 7 that new loans may be made to eligible borrowers who received other 8 FFELP loans in the past. 20 U.S.C.A. §1078-3(a)(1). The proceeds of 9 a consolidation loan are paid by the lender to the holder of existing 10 student loans to discharge the liability on those loans. 20 U.S.C.A.
11 § 1078-3(b)(1)(D). Pursuant to statute, a consolidation loan is a 12 "new loan" for purposes of §1074(a), 20 U.S.C.A. § 1078-3(e) (supp.
13 1995), which provides limitations on the amounts of loans covered by 14 federal insurance for certain periods of time. 20 U.S.C.A. §1074(a)
15 (supp. 1995).

16 Sallie Mae has moved to dismiss the complaints against it
17 pursuant to Rules 12(b)(6) and 12(b)(1) alleging that plaintiff
18 Sandra Crawford has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be 19 granted because consolidation of the loans with Sallie Mae
20 extinguished defenses to payment of the original loans and plaintiff
21 expressly waived any defenses to enforcement of the original loans
22 when she consolidated those loans with Sallie Mae.

23

24

25

26

Discussion

1
2 I. Is Ms. Crawford's consolidation loan a new loan that
3 discharged her original loans and extinguished any of her
4 potential defenses to them?

5 Sallie Mae argues that the consolidation loan obtained by Ms.
6 Crawford, from it is a new loan that discharged her original student
7 loans and extinguished any potential defenses to payment. Ms.
8 Crawford responds that she consolidated her loans into a SMART LOAN
9 with Sallie Mae, which is now the holder of the loan, and that this
10 consolidation is not a new loan which extinguished enforcement
11 defenses.

12 Sallie Mae cites numerous bankruptcy cases in which the courts
13 have found the consolidation loans to be "new" loans for the limited
14 purpose of defeating their dischargeability in bankruptcy. See Hiatt
15 v. Indiana State Student Assistance Com'm, 36 F.3d 21 (9th Cir.
16 1994); In re Hesselgrave, 177 B.R. 681 (Bkrtcy. D.Or. 1995); In re
17 Mendndez, 151 B.R. 972 (Bkrtcy. M.D. Fla. 1993); In re Saburah, 136
18 B.R. 246 (Bkrtcy C.D.Cal. 1992); United States v. McGrath, 143 B.R.
19 820(D.C.D. Md. 1992); In re Martin, 137 B.R. 770 (Bkrtcy W.D.Mo.
20 1992); In re McKinney, 1992 WL 265992 (N.D. Ohio 1992), rev'ing, 120
21 B.R. 416 (Bkrtcy. N.D. Ohio 1990). These courts have interpreted the 22 loans as new loans to advance the strong public policy favoring non-
23 dischargeability of student loans, In Re Saburah, 136 B.R. at 252,
24 and to limit abuse of the GSL program by individuals who first avoid 25 payment by consolidating and later file bankruptcy to avoid paying 26 the balance of the loans, In Re Martin, 137 B.R. at 775. These courts have generally held that the statutory period to petition for

1 bankruptcy runs from the first repayment date under the consolidation
2 loan. The defendant argues that because these courts have considered
3 the loans to be "new" loans, the consolidation discharges all
4 defenses under the prior loans. However, none of these cases hold
5 that the loans are new loans so that all defenses to the loans that 6 have been consolidated are waived as a matter of law upon 7 consolidation. Moreover, the policy considerations that moved the 8 bankruptcy courts to make the "new" loan determination do not apply
9 to this case. Thus, dismissal is not appropriate for the defendant
10 on this basis.

11 II. Did Ms. Crawford expressly waive any defenses to the original 12 loans by taking out her consolidation loan?

13 Sallie Mae argues that when Ms. Crawford obtained the new 14 consolidation loan, she expressly and knowingly waived any defenses
15 to enforcement of the original student loans. Thus, the defendant
16 argues, Ms. Crawford has no defenses to enforceability of the new 17 loan made by it and her claims against Sallie Mae in the lead and 18 individual case must be dismissed. Ms. Crawford argues that she did 19 not waive her defenses, nor did she intend to waive those defenses.

20 Ms. Crawford argues that because the court must consider the 21 language of the application/promissory note to resolve this issue a
22 motion to dismiss is inappropriate. Normally, the court would agree.
23 However, plaintiff has attached the Application/ Promissory Note as 24 Exhibit D to the Third Amended Complaint. She has also attached her 25 affidavit stating that she did not intend to waive her defenses when 26 she signed the agreement. That affidavit is Exhibit C to the Third Amended Complaint. Because plaintiff has made this evidence part of

1 the pleadings, the court can consider the language of the note and 2 affidavit on this motion to dismiss without converting the motion to 3 a summary judgment motion.

4 There is no dispute that the waiver provision is in the 5 Application/Promissory Note, which Ms. Crawford signed, and it
6 provides, "[i]t is my understanding that Sallie Mae will advance
7 funds on my behalf to creditors. . . in order to pay off those loans.
8 . . . I undertake a new obligation, which is not subject to any defenses
9 I might have with respect to the loans selected for consolidation."
10 The provision is part of the fine print of a pre-printed form
11 contract.

12 Ms. Crawford argues that the purported waiver of rights is 13 inadequate as it is within the fine print of the document and does 14 not contain the word "waiver." At best, she argues, it is ambiguous
15 and should be construed against the drafter, defendant Sallie Mae.
16 Moreover, she argues that economic circumstances forced consolidation
17 so the purported waiver will not be given effect.

18 Without an express reference to "waiver," such provisions are at 19 best ambiguous. A waiver is given effect only when "it represents an 20 intentional relinquishment of a known right." The parties must have 21 equal bargaining power so that the choice was made freely and fairly
22 and not forced by circumstances. A waiver will not be enforced if it
23 is a product of coercion or inadvertence. Salt River Project Agric.
24 Improvement & Power Dist. v. Westinghouse Elec. Corp., 143 Ariz. 368, 25 385, 694 P.2d 198, 215 1984) (tort remedies); Manzanita Park v.
26 Insurance Co. of North America, 857 F.2d 549, 555 (9th Cir. 1988).

1 In this case, Ms. Crawford's affidavit filed with her amended
2 complaint states that she was not aware of the waiver and did not
3 intend to waive defenses. The provision was in the fine print of a
4 pre-printed form contract. Ambiguous provisions in pre-printed forms
5 are construed against the drafter, in this case Sallie Mae. Taylor v.
6 State Farm Auto Ins., 175 Ariz. 1139, 854 P.2d 1134 (1993); Darner
7 Motor Sales v. Universal Underwriters Ins., 140 Ariz. 383, 682 P.2d
8 388, 396 (1984); Anderson v. Preferred stock Food Markets, Inc., 175
9 Ariz. 208, 854 P.2d 1194 (App. 1993). Therefore, the alleged waiver
10 should not be enforced against Ms. Crawford as a matter of Arizona
11 law.

12 Moreover, even if the waiver had been clear, unambiguous forms
13 will not be enforced by Arizona courts if the party to be bound did
14 not receive full and adequate notice of the term in question.
15 Gordinier v. Aetna Casualty & Sur. Co., 154 Ariz. 266, 272, 742 P.2d 16 277, 283 (1987). Ms. Crawford clearly did not receive full and 17 adequate notice. Therefore, even if the waiver had been less
18 ambiguous, the court still would not have enforced the waiver against 19 Ms. Crawford.

20 In addition, Ms. Crawford consolidated for economic reasons.
21 Therefore, the court would not enforce the waiver against her. See
22 Salt River Project Agric. Improvement & Power Dist. v. Westinghouse
23 Elec. Corp., 143 Ariz. 368, 385, 694 P.2d 198, 215 1984) (tort 24 remedies); Manzanita Park v. Insurance Co. of North America, 857 F.2d
25 549, 555 (9th Cir. 1988).

26

1 The defendant also argues that Ms. Crawford waived her defenses
2 when she requested a deferred payment on her loan. On May 6, 1992,
3 Ms. Crawford requested forbearance on her loan because of financial
4 hardship. In return for a three-month forbearance on her loan
5 payments, she attested that, "I intend to repay my education loan
6 account" and "I will resume monthly payment on 06/18/92." At that 7 time, she did not assert any defenses or question her obligation in 8 requesting an additional grace period. Therefore, the defendant
9 argues that she again waived her defenses. Ms. Crawford responds
10 that the language does not contain the key word "waiver" and that she 11 never intended to release her loan repayment defenses.³ In this 12 case, the alleged waiver is even less clear than the waiver in the 13 pre-printed form note and is insufficient as a matter of Arizona law.

14 III. Was the consolidation of loans a novation that waived
15 plaintiff's defenses to payment?

16 The defendant argues that the consolidation is a novation that 17 extinguished the defenses plaintiff had to payment of her original
18 loans. Ms. Crawford argues that it was not a novation.

19 Novation is defined as the "substitution by mutual agreement of 20 one debtor or of one creditor for another, whereby the old debt is 21 extinguished or the substitution of a new debt or obligation for the 22 existing one which is thereby extinguished." Western Coach Corp. v.
23 Roscoe, 133 Ariz. 147, 152, 650 P.2d 449, 454 (1982). However, to 24 constitute a valid novation, there must be an "extinguishment of a 25 previously valid obligation and an agreement of all parties to a new,

26 ³ Ms. Crawford's affidavit is attached to the Third Amended Complaint as exhibit C.

1 valid contract." Id. Thus, novation requires mutual agreement. In 2 this case, there was no mutual agreement by the parties that Ms.
 3 Crawford was waiving her defenses against payment of the loans.
 4 Thus, novation has not occurred and dismissal is not appropriate for 5 Sallie Mae on this issue.

6 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED THAT Defendant Student Loan Marketing
 7 Association's [Sallie Mae's] Motion to Dismiss [doc 16 in CIV 95-376]
 8 is denied.

9 DATED this 7th day of February 1995.

10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26

 C.A. Muecke
 U.S. District Judge