

Mack Makishima, Fundraising and Development Communications Manager

Mack Makishima is NCLC's Fundraising and Development Communications Manager. Mack is responsible for communicating with NCLC's supporters and the consumer law community about our work and developments in the field. He also engages current and prospective donors to expand and strengthen NCLC's individual giving base of support. Previously, he was a legislative aide and community liaison in the New York State Assembly, serving a district located in the South Bronx. Mack received his B.A. in History from Columbia University.